TOBACCO FREE NICOPODS

Tobacco free nicopods, also known as nicotine pouches, are a new kind of alternative to tobacco products. They're designed to be used like snus, offering a different way to enjoy tobacco-like experiences without actual tobacco.

BEXIA specialises in manufacturing premium tobacco-free nicopods, ensuring they pose no harm to those in your vicinity. Their extensive range of flavours and strengths caters to diverse preferences, ensuring an ideal choice for each individual.

While mint stands as the most common flavour globally, BEXIA offers something exceptional that could easily become your new favourite. The intensity level is a crucial factor in finding the perfect match for yourself.

BEXIA products contain varying nicotine strengths, ranging from 8 mg to 50 mg per gram. Each box contains 24 pieces of nicopods, ensuring an ample supply for your needs.
